[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Aug. 16.—Dr. William Osmer arrived this week from a month's trip to the Coast. The short vacation has done him a great deal of good. His host of friends are glad to see him back again and that he looks so well. He spent five days while away with his mother, now about 70 years of age. He found her in pretty good health. The rest of the vacation—about ten days—the doctor spent in the great forests of the Yosemite. He says he never enjoyed ten days of pleasure more keenly. Dr. E. Bruce Beasley, who substituted for Dr. Osmer, returned to Honolulu this week.

Dr. Albert Bowen, interne at the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, is substituting for Dr. Frank E. Sawyer, who is government physician for Kihel and Puunene, and hospital physician at Puunene. Dr. Sawyer has gone to the Coast for a much-needed vacation. He will be away for three months.

Dr. Edgar Young, who graduated eight years ago from the Honolulu High School, and well known in Honolulu by the young people of the city, has taken up practice at Kahului. He is under regular appointment by the railroad and will be given some of the work of Puunene plantation, which was too heavy for one physician to carry alone. It is likely, too, that when he can spare the time, he will be called to Wailuku to assist in that part of Maui, where the work also is unusually exacting, and demands more time than one physician can usually give. His coming to Maui is much appreciated by the other physicians here as well as the people as a whole. He has brought with him his wife and child. A new house will probably be erected in Kahului on the beach on the Wailuku side of the cottage occupied by Elmer R. Bevington.

Dr. Young is a graduate of the Cooper Medical School of San Francisco, and while in that city he had a laboratory of his own.

Dr. W. F. McConkey has resigned as medical superintendent of the Maui County Farm, having passed in his resignation at the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The board passed him a hearty vote of thanks. Dr. Charles B. Durney was appointed to succeed Dr. McConkey, and began his duties on the first of August. It is understood that he will settle with his family in Kula at the sanitarium. Dr. Durney is very popular and will make a great addition to the Maui medical fraternity. Mrs. W. E. Foster left Kula last week with her young son. She worked at the sanitarium until her successor could arrive and begin taking care of the inmates of the sanitarium. She will be greatly missed in the work, as she has put her whole heart into it and done much excellent work.

ENGLISH SOCIETY
WOMEN AS NUNSMany High-Born Dames Prefer Sequestered Cloister to Hearth

LONDON, Aug. 2.—No incident since the conversion of Princess Ena to Roman Catholicism has aroused so much interest in society circles as the announcement that the only child and heiress of the Earl of Ashburnham has renounced the world and decided to become a nun. Her action recalls the determination of many other women born in high places who have preferred the austere life of the cloister to the glamor and excitement of Mayfair or Belgravia.

The Duke of Norfolk's two sisters, Lady Minna Howard and Lady Etheldreda Howard, belong to the Sisters of Charity. Lady Edith Fielding, a sister of Lord Denbigh, belongs to the same order and cheerfully endures exile in a convent in China. Lady Maria Christina Bandini, daughter of Lord Newborough, whose wife is an American, is at a Sacre Coeur convent in Belgium. Lady Frances Bertie, Lord Abingdon's sister, resides in a convent near London, and Lady Leopoldine Keppel, sister of Lord Almarley, is a nun of the Sacred Heart, the order to which Lady Mary Ashburnham has elected to belong.

The two sisters of Lord Clifford of Chudleigh, are both nuns, as are the two sisters of Lord French, the commander-in-chief of the British army, who can also claim as his sister Miss Despard, one of the most militant and picturesque figures in the suffragist movement. Miss Leonie Dornier, sister of Lord Dornier, is a nun, and yet another nun is Miss Cicely Arundell, sister of the twelfth Lord Arundell of Wardour. The Hon. Mary and Margaret Russell, daughters of the late Lord Russell, chief justice of England, belong to the convent of the Holy Child at Mayfield in Sussex, while his three sisters—one of whom spent fifty years in "Frisco"—devoted their lives to the religious vocation. The Hon. Violet Gibson, daughter of Lord Ashbourne, late lord chancellor of Ireland, in spite of protests of her parents, elected to join the conventual life, and so did the stepdaughter of the present Lord Morley, whose views on religious matters generally excite the widest speculation.

In several cases whole groups of sisters are lost to the world within the walls of convents. For instance, no fewer than four sisters of the present Duchess of Norfolk are nuns; as are three sisters of the fourteenth Lord Petre; one is a Sister of Charity; the others belong to the order of the Good Shepherd and reside in convents at Cardiff and Glasgow. Four of the aunts of the present Lord Camoys, who is married to an American wife, chose the cloistered life, devoting themselves to the work of relieving the poor and the sick.

ONE PLUCKY WOMAN
CAPTURES A BANDIT

"Covers" and "Hog Ties" the Leader of Desperate Gang Who Had Eluded Armed Posses

CRAIG, Colo., August 5.—After successfully eluding heavily armed posses from three counties for a week, William Sartelle, alias William Morgan, said to be the leader of a desperate gang of outlaws from the Hole in the Wall country, Wyoming, and who escaped from the jail here with two companions last Tuesday morning, yesterday was made a prisoner by a woman.

Mrs. Annie Decker, wife of a Snake river rancher, "covered" the outlaw with a revolver while he was eating a meal which she had prepared for him at the point of a gun. The plucky woman disarmed the bandit, then "hogtied" him.

Afterward she telephoned Deputy Sheriff James Davis of Carbon county, Wyo., and until his arrival the woman was alone with her prisoner. Sartelle is now in jail at Dixon, Wyo.

and so one may conclude that our friend belonged to a stage of advanced civilization. The forehead is sloping, but quite similar to our own foreheads. Here is a tit of it—the supra-orbital bone—just above the eyes, and you note that it is not pushed to the extreme and menacing development of the later "Neanderthal" man. Again, look at the tibia. It is not razor-like, as Neolithic man's tibia was, but semi-cylindrical; and perhaps this man walked in some peculiar way which necessitated this feature.

"However, the remarkable thing is the similarity of form between this earliest European, and ourselves. In fact, the later 'Neanderthal' man is quite old-fashioned, so to speak, while this man, in most of the configuration of his skeleton, is of our own time. If our surmises are correct, this means that, physically, modern man was a developed creature before the beginning of the glacial period. These two types of primitive man existed side by side, but one type endured."—London Standard.
